BUILD FOR the FUTURE

About Us

DTU AUV represents a technological dream achieved by a team of undergraduate Delhi Technological University (formerly Delhi College of Engineering) students to develop an Autonomous Underwater Vehicle of industrial standards and reduce India's reliance on foreign AUVs . It tests its progress against the world by participating in reputed RoboSub competition organized by AUVSI every year in San Diego, USA.

The team designs vehicles by fusion of research work in the field of mechanical engineering, electronics, instrumentation, image processing and acoustics. This project showcases the viability of submersible, untethered robot that is capable of performing shallow water complex tasks without human aid. It has been designed with a view to achieve maximum operational standards, minimal payload and power requirements and high level of modularity.

DTU-AUV has shown up as one of the most successful tech team over the past 16 years by pulling off various national and international competitions.

BFF aka "Build for the Future" is a 36 hour hackathon event organized by DTU-AUV which brings together students, professionals, and industry experts from various disciplines to brainstorm solutions to various existing problems in the world.

With BFF, we aim to create a platform for young minds to showcase their creativity and technical skills in a competitive and collaborative environment. Students can participate in teams of up to 4 members.
